Subject: question about annual assignments

Hi Larry-

I have a faculty member who is declining to sign his annual assignment because of the content of the dropdown box. Although he signed it initially over the summer (and I presume that the dropdown box was there then, although I do not know that specifically), he now declines on the grounds that the dropdown agreement goes in his interpretation far beyond any financial conflicts of interest. If the grounds for his objections are pertinent, I can send to you his arguments.
